STEEL PLANT FOR CLARK FARM IS LATEST RUMOR

Stated English Syndicate Has Purchased Big Tract

SAID TO BE AUTHENTIC

Railroad Man Credited With With Giving Information of Activity

A rumor is afloat in this section that has set the community agog somewhat with expectation. It is to the effect that a syndicate of English capitalists has purchased the Clark farm above Dunlevy, and will utilize it as a site for a big industrial plant, presumably in the manufacture of iron and steel.

Nothing definite concerning this rumor could be learned, except that it is supposed to have emenated from railroad circles up the river. Some one told some one that the deal had been made, and that he got it straight from official circles in Pittsburg, and this some one told some one else, and there the rumor rests. It could not be learned whether or not there was any real foundation to the report, or whether it was one of those periodical rumors concerning the utilization of the Clark farm that are perennially set afloat concerning this prospective industrial site. At all events, according to the logic of an old time observer, "the longer the site is held unoccupied, the nearer it ought to be to the time something was doing"

As mentioned last week, the Clark farm was bought by the Mellon interests of Pittsburg, more than ten years ago for an industrial site. At the time the steel plant was located at Donora, it was stated that the Clark farm was he preference, but that the Donora site was chosen because it was included in the Pittsburg freight rate limit. Since that time efforts have been made to have the Pittsburg rate on the Pennsylvania Railroad extended to Allenport, but thus far it has not been successful

In last week's issue it was stated that the Pittsburg rate limit on the Pennsylvania Railroad ends at Charleroi. This was an error as it now includes Speers, as has since been learned. It has also been learned that the Pittsburg freight rate limit on the P. & L. E. Railroad on the opposite side of the river, now extends to Fayette City, so that there is no good and valid reason why the Pennsylvania limit should not be extended to Allenport, as this point is directly opposite Fayette City.

This extension will no doubt have a direct bearing in the utilization of the Clark farm for an industrial site. While the English syndicate purchase is uncomfirmed, it is known that the site has been unproductive for over a decade, so that efforts to utilize it is not an improbabiliy at any time.

WILL OPEN NEW RQOMS

Republican Headquarters to be Formally Dedicated Tonight

County Republican headquarters in Washington are to be formally opened with a band concert and short addresses by candidates tonight. County Chairman C. E. Carothers announces that all arrangements had been completed for the event.

The party is fortunate in the location selected by Chairman Carothers this year, the old Citizens National bank building on Main street, directly opposite the court house. The building is admirably adapted for the purpose, being divided into numerous compartments where the clerical force can work without disturbance and where party workers may meet the leaders in conference without the delay usually experienced in former campaigns. when only one or two rooms were had and those usually crowded and much confusion prevailed.

The Canonsburg band is to arrive in Washington at 7 p. m. They will detrain at Main and Chestnut streets where a parade will be formed, and march down Main street to the corner of Maiden and back to headquarters. Congressman Charles Matthews and Candidates Feeney, Allison and Walker, the county's next assemblymen, are to be present and deliver short addresses.

Chairman Carothers stated that he has had word from many of the active party workers of the county who expect to attend the opening of headquarters.

Major S. L. Wilson, the Civil War veteran and a wheelhorse of Republicanism, is constantly at headquarters and meets hundreds of voters every day. Major Wilson says he has failedto discover evidence of the great dissatisfaction in the ranks of the party which the opposition newspapers allege exists in Washington county.

Miss Margaret Neal of Wheeling, W. Va., is a guest of Miss Eugenia Velletay.

DONORA FOLKS SEEK ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Two petitions are being circulated this week by Donora people which will later be presented to the county commisisoners of this county asking for the improvement of a road leading from Donora to a point on the State road connecting Monongahela and Charleroi. W. T. Whitledge and W. S. Coatsworth were in Charleroi Wednesday with a petition. It was signed by practically every business man and citizen here to whom they went.

The road which it is desired to have improved and rebuilt extends from Donora by the way of West Columbia and Sampson's Schoool House, Eldora, and Jacob Fisher's residence to the Monongahela Ridge road, thence out the Ridge road to a point on the State road leading from Monongahela to Charleroi at or near Alexander School House.

It is declared in the petition that the road is in bad condition. It is claimed that in the winter time it is well nigh impassable. The road is important to the entire section. If improved it will give Donora a new outlet and will prove advantageous to the entire section. Donora is not on any of the important State road routes as in Charleroi and Monongahela, being in the wrong bend of the river.

A petition of three pages was prepared the fore part of the week at Donora. The one brought to Charleroi Wednesday contained a number of Carroll township residents' names.

Livingston of Pittsburg was elected president of the new Pennsylvania Association of Sealers of Weights and Measures, formed at Harrisburg Wednesday by officers from a score of counties and cities. COMMERCIAL COURSE INSTALLED AT NORMAL

The commercial course in the State Normal school at California, which was abandoned by action of the Board of Trustees following the commencement last spring is to be reinstated, Paul S. Messersmith, of Ann Arbor, Mich, having been placed in charge.

The attendonce in the commercial department had fallen so low that it was thought it was not necessary, and it was dropped. This year, however, a large number of students desire to enter this department and on their petition the trustees have decided to reinstate it, commencing with next Monday.

Prof Messersmith, the new commercial instructor, is a graduate of the Steelton High school, the Harrisburg Conservatory of Music, the law department of the University of Michigan and of the Stenographic Institute of Ann Arbor. He will reach California the latter part of the present week.

SEVERAL OFFENDERS ADMIT THEIR GUILT AND ARE SENTENCED

William Allen, colored of the Third ward, Washington, whose alleged gambling place was raided late last Saturday night week ago entered a plea of guilty to the court at Washington this week. He was directed to pay the costs, fine of $10 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 60 days.

P. L. Mitchell colored, entered a plea of guilty of selling liquor without license. He was accused of having been "bootlegging," of going out of town and getting liquor and selling it to friends in Washington. The defendant denied bringing any liquor into Washington for several months. He said he had been working steadily until arrested. At the time he was taken into custody he and some friends had a keg of beer on tap and he was the only one taken in charge by the officers. He was given the minimum sentence of $500 fine and costs and three months in jail.

Otto Youngst of Monongahela a baker by trade, admitted very frankly that his domestic troubles were due to too much liquor. Mr. Youngst is a man about 50 years of age and his family is respected at Monongahela. He has three children, two daughters and a son. His wife charged him with desertion and nonsupport. Youngst admitted very frankly he should support his wife, and replied that his trouble was simply due to his drinking. He expressed a willingness to sign a pledge for a year. When working, he said and making good money, he always gave his wife a larger part of his pay. The court ordered him to pay his wife $6 a week, pay the costs of prosecution and to give bond in the sum of $300 for the faithful compliance with the order.

William Everett, colored, entered a plea of guilty to assault and battery preferred by R. L. Tidball, of Monongahela. The prosecutor alleged the defendant while intoxicated assaulted him. Everett admitted he was drinking when the trouble occurred, but claimed he had simply tripped over a board and fallen against the officer, when the officer thought he, the defendant, had tried to strike him. Everett was directed to pay the costs, fine of $1 and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 30 days.

SENTIMENT CHIEFLY FOR TAFT, SAYS M'CLOSKEY

Charleroi Lawyer Meets Business Men on Trip Abroad

REPORTS FINE VACATION

Visited Many Noted European Cities---Manufacturers Watching America

Business and professional men who spent their summers abroad are universally for Taft, according to P. M. McCloskey, Esq., of Charleroi who has just returned from a several weeks' tour through Europe. Theodore Roosevelt and his Bull Moose aspirants get scant sympaty. There are some who are grooming Wilson but the sentiment is chiefly for Taft. Abroad the European manufacturers are confident of Wilson's election and are watching American politics with an eagle eye. Possibly prejudice in favor of the Democratic lower tariff idea affords them reason for believing that Wilson will be elected, but anyhow, says Mr. McCloskey, they are for Wilson to the last.

Mr. McCloskey arrived in Charleroi Wednesday. His mother Mrs. F. P. McCloskey who spent the summer abroad with him is visiting a few days in New York city and Princeton before returning. Their return voyage was from Rotterdam, Germany on one of the palatial steamers of the Holland-American line All steamers now are passing 200 miles south of the regular route, because of the Titanic disaster several months ago. Icebergs were sighted by the crew of the steamer upon which Mr. McCloskey and his mother returned before they were so far out on their return voyage.

The Archibold-Penrose-Roosevelt controversy in Congress occasioned much merriment among the business men whom Mr McCloskey met and they took the Roosevelt defeat as quite a matter of course.

Of this trip Mr. McCloskey says: "I paid more attention to the business and political conditions than I did to the ancient sights, although to be sure I did all the sight - seeing I could. My mother and I visited in Algiers in Africa, Naples, Venice, Milan Italy, Patras in Greece, Lucerne and Interlaken in Switzerland, Paris in France and along the Rhine in Germany. We took a trip down the Rhine river in Germany to Cologne.

The most of the time we spent in Switzerland and of course did some Alps climbing.

"Europeans have an exaggerated opinion of our wealth. They play for the American trade, to which they give a preference over all the rest. I took occasion to scan the glass outlook and met some Bohemian glass manufacturers. Bohemia is the original glass country of Europe. They make the same kind of glass in Bohemia that they do in Charleroi. One of the leading manufacturers which I met was more than anxious to know how they make prism glass at the Macbeth-Evans plant in Charleroi. I found that the average wage was about seven francs or $1.40 a day. That shows what a lowered tariff would do to our country. They want Wilson elected so they can get their manufactured products into this country, thinking that Wilson, a Democrat will follow the Democratic idea and seek a lower tariff."

No Pardon For Shields

Westmoreland County Man Must Stay in Penitentiary Prison Board Decides

Argument was made before the Board of Pardons of Pennsylvania Wednesday for a pardon for County Commissioner John E. Shields, of Westmoreland county, who is serving a term in the penitentiary and a pardon was refused. He has served a part of the two years' term to which he was sentenced on charges of misconduct while sheriff of Westmoreland county.

The burden of the plea was that the charges against Shields, while perhaps technically correct, involved no actual criminality on his part and arose from the agitation growing out of the Westmoreland coal strike.

A Good Eater.

When Gustavus of Sweden was besieging Prague a boor of extraordinary aspect gained admittance to his tent and offered by way of amusing his majesty to devour a large hog in his presence Old General Konigsmarck who was in attendance, at once suggested that the man with the Gargantuan appetite should be burned as a witch, whereupon the boor, whose feelings were hurt by this observation, exclaimed, "If your majesty will but make that old gentleman take off his sword and spurs I will eat him before I begin the pig" This was accompanied by such a "hideous expansion of the jaws and mouth" that the general, though he had given his "proofs" on many a field, turned pale and fled in continently to his tent

An Odd Moorish Custom.

As a people the Moors are already well inclined to anything that gilds life. A correspondent says: "Nothing delights them more as a means of agreeably spending an hour or two than squatting on their heels in the streets or on some door stoop, gazing at the passersby, exchanging compliments with their acquaintances Native 'swells' consequently promenade with a piece of felt under their arms on which to sit when they wish."

Browning.

Browning had completed a whole volume of verse by the time he was twelve, but his earliest artistic effort was a painting of a cottage and rocks, which he painted at the age of two in lead pencil and black currant jam juice.

A Ghost Story.

A London daily tells a short modern ghost story A man was traveling on a northbound train out of London Opposite him was a silent stranger, his only companion Between London and Derby no word passed. Then, as the train drew out of Derby, he said pleasantly, "Good line, this, sir, eh?" The stranger replied: "I think it's a beastly bad line I was killed on it two years ago."

He Shouldn't.

"Dear Jack, If you are looking for a really good donkey, please don't forget me"—Exchange.

Still At the Same Place.

Frank Berton, aged 13 months, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs A. Berton of 922 Meadow avenue died Tuesday at 12 o'clock noon. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Futility of Education.

An eminent physician, at a recent convention of railway surgeons in Philadelphia, said of a safety device that has averted many railway accidents.

"The advantage of this device is now almost universally recognized. Indeed, the railroader who disputes its advantages is as antiquated as the old resident who said

"Education be hanged. That's young Bill Saunders took an engineerin' course in a correspondence school and then put up a sign on his carriage house and hadn't no better sense than to spell "carriage" "garage"!"—Exchange.

He Aroused Them.

When Samuel S. Colber was preaching in an old log schoolhouse in Johnson county, Missouri, in 1852, his congregation was quite small. One Sunday all were sitting at the desks forward near the pulpit floor. The sermon was monotonous and the old log seats had no backs. Observing the sleepy, downcast look of the congregation, the minister woke them up by shouting, "Arouse, heaven is not under the floor!"

Quite Businesslike.

He had written to the magazine editor's daughter asking if she could return his love.

"How careless of him!" she said, throwing the epistle in the wastebasket. "He should have inclosed return postage."—Philadelphia Record.

Her Pertinent Query.

"Mother," asked the little one on the occasion of a number of guests being present at dinner, "will the dessert hurt me or is there enough to go round?"—Sacred Heart Review.

"I have never tried such rigid economy, sir." Life.

The child was joulted from its seat and plunged beneath the wheels which passed over the upper part of its body. The horse was stopped by Mr. Chester. One of the most familiar names during the closing days of the season in the Cincinnati National League lineup is "Pete" Knicely, the Rices Landing boy who is playing middle field. STEEL PLANT FOR CLARK FARM IS LATEST RUMOR

Stated English Syndicate Has Purchased Big Tract

SAID TO BE AUTHENTIC

Railroad Man Credited With With Giving Information of Activity

A rumor is afloat in this section that has set the community agog somewhat with expectation. It is to the effect that a syndicate of English capitalists has purchased the Clark farm above Dunlevy, and will utilize it as a site for a big industrial plant, presumably in the manufacture of iron and steel.

Nothing definite concerning this rumor could be learned, except that it is supposed to have emenated from railroad circles up the river. Some one told some one that the deal had been made, and that he got it straight from official circles in Pittsburg, and this some one told some one else, and there the rumor rests. It could not be learned whether or not there was any real foundation to the report, or whether it was one of those periodical rumors concerning the utilization of the Clark farm that are perennially set afloat concerning this prospective industrial site. At all events, according to the logic of an old time observer, "the longer the site is held unoccupied, the nearer it ought to be to the time something was doing"

As mentioned last week, the Clark farm was bought by the Mellon interests of Pittsburg, more than ten years ago for an industrial site. At the time the steel plant was located at Donora, it was stated that the Clark farm was he preference, but that the Donora site was chosen because it was included in the Pittsburg freight rate limit. Since that time efforts have been made to have the Pittsburg rate on the Pennsylvania Railroad extended to Allenport, but thus far it has not been successful

In last week's issue it was stated that the Pittsburg rate limit on the Pennsylvania Railroad ends at Charleroi. This was an error as it now includes Speers, as has since been learned. It has also been learned that the Pittsburg freight rate limit on the P. & L. E. Railroad on the opposite side of the river, now extends to Fayette City, so that there is no good and valid reason why the Pennsylvania limit should not be extended to Allenport, as this point is directly opposite Fayette City.

This extension will no doubt have a direct bearing in the utilization of the Clark farm for an industrial site. While the English syndicate purchase is uncomfirmed, it is known that the site has been unproductive for over a decade, so that efforts to utilize it is not an improbabiliy at any time.

Republican Headquarters to be Formally Dedicated Tonight

County Republican headquarters in Washington are to be formally opened with a band concert and short addresses by candidates tonight. County Chairman C. E. Carothers announces that all arrangements had been completed for the event.

The party is fortunate in the location selected by Chairman Carothers this year, the old Citizens National bank building on Main street, directly opposite the court house. The building is admirably adapted for the purpose, being divided into numerous compartments where the clerical force can work without disturbance and where party workers may meet the leaders in conference without the delay usually experienced in former campaigns. when only one or two rooms were had and those usually crowded and much confusion prevailed.

The Canonsburg band is to arrive in Washington at 7 p. m. They will detrain at Main and Chestnut streets where a parade will be formed, and march down Main street to the corner of Maiden and back to headquarters. Congressman Charles Matthews and Candidates Feeney, Allison and Walker, the county's next assemblymen, are to be present and deliver short addresses.

Chairman Carothers stated that he has had word from many of the active party workers of the county who expect to attend the opening of headquarters.

Major S. L. Wilson, the Civil War vetern and a wheelhorse of Republicanism, is constantly at headquarters and meets hundreds of voters every day. Major Wilson says he has failedto discover evidence of the great dissatisfaction in the ranks of the party which the opposition newspapers allege exists in Washington county.

Miss Margaret Neal of Wheeling, W. Va., is a guest of Miss Eugenia Velletay.

DONORA FOLKS SEEK ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Two petitions are being circulated this week by Donora people which will later be presented to the county commisisoners of this county asking for the improvement of a road leading from Donora to a point on the State road connecting Monongahela and Charleroi. W. T. Whitledge and W. S. Coatsworth were in Charleroi Wednesday with a petition. It was signed by practically every business man and citizen here to whom they went.

The road which it is desired to have improved and rebuilt extends from Donora by the way of West Columbia and Sampson's Schoool House, Eldora, and Jacob Fisher's residence to the Monongahela Ridge road, thence out the Ridge road to a point on the State road leading from Monongahela to Charleroi at or near Alexander School House.

It is declared in the petition that the road is in bad condition. It is claimed that in the winter time it is well nigh impassable. The road is important to the entire section. If improved it will give Donora a new outlet and will prove advantageous to the entire section. Donora is not on any of the important State road routes as in Charleroi and Monongahela, being in the wrong bend of the river.

A petition of three pages was prepared the fore part of the week at Donora. The one brought to Charleroi Wednesday contained a number of Carroll township residents' names.

SEALERS OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES FORM STATE ORGANIZATION

Murray G. Livingston of Pittsburg was elected president of the new Pennsylvania Association of Sealers of Weights and Measures, formed at Harrisburg Wednesday by officers from a score of counties and cities. W. G. McGovern of Mount Carmel was elected first vice president; John McCroarty of Edwardsville second vice president; B. Frank Rinn of Allentown treasurer; James Sweeney, state chief of standards, secretary, and O. Evans Mikesell of Washington sergeant at arms. Committees to have charge of legislation and other matters were named and Harrisburg selected as the permanent meeting place.

Laws which will require all counties and cities to appoint sealers of weights and measures to give sealers right of summary convictions such as is now enjoyed by games and fish wardens and to punish severely counterfeiters of seals, standardization of bushel measure, berry boxes and milk bottles will be urged upon the next Legislature.

COMMERCIAL COURSE INSTALLED AT NORMAL

The commercial course in the State Normal school at California, which was abandoned by action of the Board of Trustees following the commencement last spring is to be reinstated, Paul S. Messersmith, of Ann Arbor, Mich, having been placed in charge.

The attendonce in the commercial department had fallen so low that it was thought it was not necessary, and it was dropped. This year, however, a large number of students desire to enter this department and on their petition the trustees have decided to reinstate it, commencing with next Monday.

Prof Messersmith, the new commercial instructor, is a graduate of the Steelton High school, the Harrisburg Conservatory of Music, the law department of the University of Michigan and of the Stenographic Institute of Ann Arbor. He will reach California the latter part of the present week.

SEVERAL OFFENDERS ADMIT THEIR GUILT AND ARE SENTENCED

William Allen, colored of the Third ward, Washington, whose alleged gambling place was raided late last Saturday night week ago entered a plea of guilty to the court at Washington this week. He was directed to pay the costs, fine of $10 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 60 days.

P. L. Mitchell colored, entered a plea of guilty of selling liquor without license. He was accused of having been "bootlegging," of going out of town and getting liquor and selling it to friends in Washington. The defendant denied bringing any liquor into Washington for several months. He said he had been working steadily until arrested. At the time he was taken into custody he and some friends had a keg of beer on tap and he was the only one taken in charge by the officers. He was given the minimum sentence of $500 fine and costs and three months in jail.

Otto Youngst of Monongahela a baker by trade, admitted very frankly that his domestic troubles were due to too much liquor. Mr. Youngst is a man about 50 years of age and his family is respected at Monongahela. He has three children, two daughters and a son. His wife charged him with desertion and nonsupport. Youngst admitted very frankly he should support his wife, and replied that his trouble was simply due to his drinking. He expressed a willingness to sign a pledge for a year. When working, he said and making good money, he always gave his wife a larger part of his pay. The court ordered him to pay his wife $6 a week, pay the costs of prosecution and to give bond in the sum of $300 for the faithful compliance with the order.

William Everett, colored, entered a plea of guilty to assault and battery preferred by R. L. Tidball, of Monongahela. The prosecutor alleged the defendant while intoxicated assaulted him. Everett admitted he was drinking when the trouble occurred, but claimed he had simply tripped over a board and fallen against the officer, when the officer thought he, the defendant, had tried to strike him. Everett was directed to pay the costs, fine of $1 and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 30 days.

SENTIMENT CHIEFLY FOR TAFT, SAYS M'CLOSKEY

Charleroi Lawyer Meets Business Men on Trip Abroad

REPORTS FINE VACATION

Visited Many Noted European Cities----Manufacturers Watching America

Business and professional men who spent their summers abroad are universally for Taft, according to D. M. McCloskey, Esq., of Charleroi who has just returned from a several weeks' tour through Europe. Theodore Roosevelt and his Bull Moose aspirants get scant sympaty. There are some who are grooming Wilson but the sentiment is chiefly for Taft. Abroad the European manufacturers are confident of Wilson's election and are watching American politics with an eagle eye. Possibly prejudice in favor of the Democratic lower tariff idea affords them reason for believing that Wilson will be elected, but anyhow, says Mr. McCloskey, they are for Wilson to the last.

Mr. McCloskey arrived in Charleroi Wednesday. His mother Mrs. F. P. McCloskey who spent the summer abroad with him is visiting a few days in New York city and Princeton before returning. Their return voyage was from Rotterdam, Germany on one of the palatial steamers of the Holland-American line All steamers now are passing 200 miles south of the regular route, because of the Titanic disaster several months ago. Icebergs were sighted by the crew of the steamer upon which Mr. McCloskey and his mother returned before they were so far out on their return voyage.

The Archibold-Penrose-Roosevelt controversy in Congress occasioned much merriment among the business men whom Mr McCloskey met and they took the Roosevelt defeat as quite a matter of course.

Of this trip Mr. McCloskey says: "I paid more attention to the business and political conditions than I did to the ancient sights, although to be sure I did all the sight seeing I could. My mother and I visited in Algiers in Africa, Naples, Venice, Milan Italy, Patras in Greece, Lucerne and Interlaken in Switzerland, Paris in France and along the Rhine in Germany. We took a trip down the Rhine river in Germany to Cologne.

The most of the time we spent in Switzerland and of course did some Alps climbing.

"Europeans have an exaggerated opinion of our wealth. They play for the American trade, to which they give a preference over all the rest. I took occasion to scan the glass outlook and met some Bohemian glass manufacturers. Bohemia is the original glass country of Europe. They make the same kind of glass in Bohemia that they do in Charleroi. One of the leading manufacturers which I met was more than anxious to know how they make prism glass at the Macbeth-Evans plant in Charleroi. I found that the average wage was about seven francs or $1.40 a day. That shows what a lowered tariff would do to our country. They want Wilson elected so they can get their manufactured products into this country, thinking that Wilson, a Democrat will follow the Democratic idea and seek a lower tariff."

No Pardon For Shields

Westmoreland County Man Must Stay in Penitentiary Prison Board Decides

Argument was made before the Board of Pardons of Pennsylvania Wednesday for a pardon for County Commissioner John E. Shields, of Westmoreland county, who is serving a term in the penitentiary and a pardon was refused. He has served a part of the two years' term to which he was sentenced on charges of misconduct while sheriff of Westmoreland county.

The burden of the plea was that the charges against Shields, while perhaps technically correct, involved no actual criminality on his part and arose from the agitation growing out of the Westmoreland coal strike.

BIG FARM DEAL IS CONSUMMATED

An important real estate deal was announced at Monessen Wednesday it being in the sale of the 110 acre farm in Rostraver township of John Stacy to George Martin. The amount of purchase was $11,000 cash. Mr. Stacy, who was one of the best known farmers of Rostraver township will go west to settle in Kansas.

THE CO-OPERATIVE SPIRIT.

With the sudden realization of the public that the cost of living is too high, and that the tendency of people is to spend more than they make, comes a searching inquiry into ways and means to off-set the efforts of the old-time prodigality, which is now gone forever. People are finding out that they must adopt the methods of the plain people of the European countries in order to make ends meet. Economy, frugality and thrift must hereafter be a leading rule of action with every individual as well as a spirit to unite and help one another.

This inquiry and investigation has brought to light the spirit of co-operation which has already been well developed in the older countries. After these investigations have been made economic workers are amazed to learn that in many of the European countries the plain people—peasants, we are wont to call them—are pooling their resources and doing things for themselves what in this country is believed can only be accomplished by highly organized capital and expert financiering.

It has been learned that the peasants of Germany have a system of co-operative banking that is as effective and far-reaching in its operation as any of the great financial syndicates that center in New York city. It was designed and perfected by the ordinary small farmers who when they found that no banker would loan them small sums when needed proceeded to do their own banking. So wonderful and far-reaching has their system become that President Taft, through the Diplomatic Service, has caused a study of the system to be made and an effort will be made to introduce it in the United States. Literature on the subject is being circulated by the State Department.

As a matter of fact the plain people can do anything that any other kind of people can do. They can do co-operative banking just as well as they can do co-operative buying and selling. A body of working people, no single one of whom could get a loan of twenty-five dollars for thirty days from a bank can pool their resources, secure a loan in a lump sum divide this into small sums for short time loans, and the compounding process will pay interest on the principal and expenses of handling. This is out to do, and they have been so successful that now they have central banks to supply the little ones and a system that is one of the most important financial centers of the German Empire.

WHERE REPUBLICANS STAND

In a brief outline of the national policy of the situation in national politics, Chairman Charles D. Hilles of the national Republican committee struck the keynote when he said:

"Shall we uphold the constitution and the protective policy. These are the two important issues of this campaign, the two which are gradually forcing themselves on the attention of the American people. Theodore Roosevelt stands for what amounts to an overthrow of the constitution, and Woodrow Wilson would destroy the protective tariff policy under which the United States has so greatly prospered.

President Taft is both a protectionist and a revisionist. He was the first leading Republican to declare for a thorough revision of the tariff schedule. This he did at Bath, Me., two years before he was nominated for the presidency. President Roosevelt who read Mr. Taft's speech before it was delivered warned him that he was treading on delicate ground and that he would make a host of enemies, but with that fearlessness which has always characterized him where matters of principle have been concerned Mr. Taft delivered an address in which he expressed his exact sentiments and braved the animosity of the 'standpat' elements of his party."

This is where Republicans stand. If they profess to be Republicans, then they must stand by their party. If they align themselves with another party, then they must be opposed to the policy under which our great industrial advancement that has been the marvel of the world has been fostered and developed.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Justice Miles Forman begins a new serial story in the October Woman's Home Companion entitled "Through the Open Door." It is a "Votes for Women" story and will probably create considerable discussion among those interested in this subject. In the first chapter a young Socialist, talking to an eighteen year old girl on the subject of freedom, says:

"I mean just what I say. People ought to want freedom. They ought to want it so hard that they'd be in physical agony for the lack of it. They ought to stand up together in a gigantic yearning army and take it! Instead of which they run about in little circles and yammer about wages and agreements, and interest and votes, and the fair division of property. Property—that everlasting fetish of property! The rich man has it in square miles, and yet he hasn't enough; the poor man howls that he isn't given his fair share. If they dream at night, they dream of money or of some kind of beastly happiness that money can buy for them. They never even think of the word freedom, or, if they do, they mean freedom to gobble more wealth, more property. Freedom's just a doorway to them—a means, not the summit and end of all things.

"Very few people have ever even dreamed of what freedom is. You see, things have got into a most terrible mess. This idea of property has blinded and crazed everyone. And such as it is, there's no doubt it's badly distributed, and that it's going from bad to worse. The rich have got too much of it, together with the power it gives, and the poor too little. That was well enough—up to a certain breading-point—under the old feudal system. Social classes were hard and fast things. There weren't any newspapers, nor schools, nor votes, nor walking delegates. The poor expected to be poor, and that was an end of it. And now that there is education of a kind, now that there's a popular press, now that labor has begun to think—well there's another breaking-point ahead I fancy. Another social war. Another French Revolution.

"After that freedom, perhaps. A chance for it anypow. After that great leveling, when property is no longer gathered into big terrifying heaps here and there, but is spread about under foot, perhaps it will lose its fascination for the men who are living then. Then there'll grow up a race that's truly free. Free to develop, each one of them, as his own nature indicates and permits. That'll be a race of giants."

WOMEN, AVOID OPERATIONS

Many Unsuccessful — And Worse Suffering Often Follows. Mrs. Rock's Case A Warning.

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will show how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when often it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.

Here is her own statement.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement. I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for several months without much relief and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. ORVILLE ROCK, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and has restored the health of thousands of suffering women. Why don't you try it?

HILL CURB MARKET PROVES BIG SUCCESS

The hill curb market which was instituted a week ago at Crest avenue betweet Sixth and Seventh street attracted about a half dozen farmers with produce this morning and a large crowd of buyers. Buying was brisk. Many housekeepers stocked up for the rest of the week. The hill market is an experiment that if proven successful will be tried in other parts of town.

BIG GROWTH NOTED IN AUTO INSURANCE

Automobile insurance, protecting the owners of cars against accident, robbery and other hazards is now a highly specialized business. More than 20,000 claims are passed on daily by the officers of the 74 accident insurance companies, making up what is known as the Detroit Conference. Records on which rates are based rival in degree of completeness those accumulated in many years of life insurance history.

One of the most interesting tables furnished the conference at its annual meeting in Detroit a few days ago showed the percentage and variety of acicdent arranged according to the various makes of motor cars.

Strenuous efforts were made by several manufacturers to secure this table. It was readily appreciated that the manufacturer whose cars made the best showing in the table would be fully qualified to claim his product the safest on the market. The insurance men refused to allow such use of their private information but the word was quietly passed around that the identity of the true leader in the table would be disclosed in an informal way before the conference was over.

MONESSEN TO ANNEX M'MAHON

Monessen anticipated adding new territory by the annexation and by the process of consolidation of McMahon borough. McMahon is working hand in hand with the movement. Friday night of this week Monessen council will meet for the purpose of considering a resolution on the matter. McMahon borough council will meet Saturday night to consider the same resolution.

STEEL PLANT FOR CLARK FARM IS LATEST RUMOR

Stated English Syndicate Has Purchased Big Tract

SAID TO BE AUTHENTIC

Railroad Man Credited With Giving Information of Activity

A rumor is afloat in this section that has set the community agog somewhat with expectation. It is to the effect that a syndicate of English capitalists has purchased the Clark farm above Dunlevy, and will utilize it as a site for a big industrial plant, presumably in the manufacture of iron and steel.

Nothing definite concerning this rumor could be learned, except that it is supposed to have emenated from railroad circles up the river. Some one told some one that the deal had been made, and that he got it straight from official circles in Pittsburg, and this some one told some one else, and there the rumor rests. It could not be learned whether or not there was any real foundation to the report, or whether it was one of those periodical rumors concerning the utilization of the Clark farm that are perennially set afloat concerning this prospective industrial site. At all events, according to the logic of an old time observer, "the longer the site is held unoccupied, the nearer it ought to be to the time something was doing"

As mentioned last week, the Clark farm was bought by the Mellon interests of Pittsburg, more than ten years ago for an industrial site. At the time the steel plant was located at Donora, it was stated that the Clark farm was he preference, but that the Donora site was chosen because it was included in the Pittsburg freight rate limit. Since that time efforts have been made to have the Pittsburg rate on the Pennsylvania Railroad extended to Allenport, but thus far it has not been successful

In last week's issue it was stated that the Pittsburg rate limit on the Pennsylvania Railroad ends at Charleroi. This was an error as it now includes Speers, as has since been learned. It has also been learned that the Pittsburg freight rate limit on the P. & L. E. Railroad on the opposite side of the river, now extends to Fayette City, so that there is no good and valid reason why the Pennsylvania limit should not be extended to Allenport, as this point is directly opposite Fayette City.

This extension will no doubt have a direct bearing in the utilization of the Clark farm for an industrial site. While the English syndicate purchase is uncomfirmed, it is known that the site has been unproductive for over a decade, so that efforts to utilize it is not an improbabiliy at any time.

erected at the corner of Seventh street and Fallowfield avenue is about ready to receive the steel supports for the first floor, nearly all the granite and brickwork having been completed up to that point. The shipment of the steel work has been somewhat delayed and is holding back the contractors slightly. The granite being used in the new edifice was quarried in North Carolina, at Mt. Airy.

WILL OPEN NEW ROOMS

Republican Headquarters to be Formally Dedicated Tonight

County Republican headquarters in Washington are to be formally opened with a band concert and short addresses by candidates tonight. County Chairman C. E. Carothers announces that all arrangements had been completed for the event.

The party is fortunate in the location selected by Chairman Carothers this year, the old Citizens National bank building on Main street, directly opposite the court house. The building is admirably adapted for the purpose, being divided into numerous compartments where the clerical force can work without disturbance and where party workers may meet the leaders in conference without the delay usually experienced in former campaigns, when only one or two rooms were had and those usually crowded and much confusion prevailed.

The Canonsburg band is to arrive in Washington at 7 p. m. They will detrain at Main and Chestnut streets where a parade will be formed, and march down Main street to the corner of Maiden and back to headquarters. Congressman Charles Matthews and Candidates Feeney, Allison and Walker, the county's next assemblymen, are to be present and deliver short addresses.

Chairman Carothers stated that he has had word from many of the active party workers of the county who expect to attend the opening of headquarters.

Major S. L. Wilson, the Civil War vetern and a wheelhorse of Republicanism, is constantly at headquarters and meets hundreds of voters every day. Major Wilson says he has failedto discover evidence of the great dissatisfaction in the ranks of the party which the opposition newspapers allege exists in Washington county.

Miss Margaret Neal of Wheeling, W. Va., is a guest of Miss Eugenia Velletay.

DONORA FOLKS SEEK ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Two petitions are being circulated this week by Donora people which will later be presented to the county commisisoners of this county asking for the improvement of a road leading from Donora to a point on the State road connecting Monongahela and Charleroi. W. T. Whitledge and W. S. Coatsworth were in Charleroi Wednesday with a petition. It was signed by practically every business man and citizen here to whom they went.

The road which it is desired to have improved and rebuilt extends from Donora by the way of West Columbia and Sampson's Schoool House, Eldora, and Jacob Fisher's residence to the Monongahela Ridge road, thence out the Ridge road to a point on the State road leading from Monongahela to Charleroi at or near Alexander School House.

It is declared in the petition that the road is in bad condition. It is claimed that in the winter time it is well nigh impassable. The road is important to the entire section. If improved it will give Donora a new outlet and will prove advantageous to the entire section. Donora is not on any of the important State road routes as in Charleroi and Monongahela, being in the wrong bend of the river.

A petition of three pages was prepared the fore part of the week at Donora. The one brought to Charleroi Wednesday contained a number of Carroll township residents' names.

SEALERS OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES FORM STATE ORGANIZATION

Murray G. Livingston of Pittsburg was elected president of the new Pennsylvania Association of Sealers of Weights and Measures, formed at Harrisburg Wednesday by officers from a score of counties and cities. W. G. McGovern of Mount Carmel was elected first vice president; John McCroarty of Edwardsville second vice president; B. Frank Rinn of Allentown treasurer; James Sweeney, state chief of standards, secretary, and O. Evans Mikesell of Washington sergeant at arms. Committees to have charge of legislation and other matters were named and Harrisburg selected as the permanent meeting place.

Laws which will require all counties and cities to appoint sealers of weights and measures to give sealers right of summary convictions such as is now enjoyed by games and fish wardens and to punish severely counterfeiters of seals, standardization of bushel measure, berry boxes and milk bottles will be urged upon the next Legislature.

COMMERCIAL COURSE INSTALLED AT NORMAL

The commercial course in the State Normal school at California, which was abandoned by action of the Board of Trustees following the commencement last spring is to be reinstated, Paul S. Messersmith, of Ann Arbor, Mich, having been placed in charge.

The attendonce in the commercial department had fallen so low that it was thought it was not necessary, and it was dropped. This year, however, a large number of students desire to enter this department and on their petition the trustees have decided to reinstate it, commencing with next Monday.

Prof Messersmith, the new commercial instructor, is a graduate of the Steelton High school, the Harrisburg Conservatory of Music, the law department of the University of Michigan and of the Stenographic Institute of Ann Arbor. He will reach California the latter part of the present week.

SEVERAL OFFENDERS ADMIT THEIR GUILT AND ARE SENTENCED

William Allen, colored of the Third ward, Washington, whose alleged gambling place was raided late last Saturday night week ago entered a plea of guilty to the court at Washington this week. He was directed to pay the costs, fine of $10 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 60 days.

P. L. Mitchell colored, entered a plea of guilty of selling liquor without license. He was accused of having been "bootlegging," of going out of town and getting liquor and selling it to friends in Washington. The defendant denied bringing any liquor into Washington for several months. He said he had been working steadily until arrested. At the time he was taken into custody he and some friends had a keg of beer on tap and he was the only one taken in charge by the officers. He was given the minimum sentence of $500 fine and costs and three months in jail.

Otto Youngst of Monongahela a baker by trade, admitted very frankly that his domestic troubles were due to too much liquor. Mr. Youngst is a man about 50 years of age and his family is respected at Monongahela. He has three children, two daughters and a son. His wife charged him with desertion and nonsupport. Youngst admitted very fankly he should support his wife, and replied that his trouble was simply due to his drinking. He expressed a willingness to sign a pledge for a year. When working, he said and making good money, he always gave his wife a larger part of his pay. The court ordered him to pay his wife $6 a week, pay the costs of prosecution and to give bond in the sum of $300 for the faithful compliance with the order.

William Everett, colored, entered a plea of guilty to assault and battery preferred by R. L. Tidball, of Monongahela. The prosecutor alleged the defendant while intoxicated assaulted him. Everett admitted he was drinking when the trouble occurred, but claimed he had simply tripped over a board and fallen against the officer, when the officer thought he, the defendant, had tried to strike him. Everett was directed to pay the costs, fine of $1 and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 30 days.

SENTIMENT CHIEFLY FOR TAFT, SAYS M'CLOSKEY

Charleroi Lawyer Meets Business Men on Trip Abroad

REPORTS FINE VACATION

Visited Many Noted European Cities—Manufacturers Watching America

Business and professional men who spent their summers abroad are universally for Taft, according to D. M. McCloskey, Esq., of Charleroi who has just returned from a several weeks' tour through Europe. Theodore Roosevelt and his Bull Moose aspirants get scant sympaty. There are some who are grooming Wilson but the sentiment is chiefly for Taft. Abroad the European manufacturers are confident of Wilson's election and are watching American politics with an eagle eye. Possibly prejudice in favor of the Democratic lower tariff idea affords them reason for believing that Wilson will be elected, but anyhow, says Mr. McCloskey, they are for Wilson to the last.

Mr. McCloskey arrived in Charleroi Wednesday. His mother Mrs. F. P. McCloskey who spent the summer abroad with him is visiting a few days in New York city and Princeton before returning. Their return voyage was from Rotterdam, Germany on one of the palatial steamers of the Holland-American line All steamers now are passing 200 miles south of the regular route, because of the Titanic disaster several months ago. Icebergs were sighted by the crew of the steamer upon which Mr. McCloskey and his mother returned before they were so far out on their return voyage.

The Archibold-Penrose-Roosevelt controversy in Congress occasioned much merriment among the business men whom Mr McCloskey met and they took the Roosevelt defeat as quite a matter of course.

Of this trip Mr. McCloskey says: "I paid more attention to the business and political conditions than I did to the ancient sights, although to be sure I did all the sight seeing I could. My mother and I visited in Algiers in Africa, Naples, Venice, Milan Italy, Patras in Greece, Lucerne and Interlaken in Switzerland, Paris in France and along the Rhine in Germany. We took a trip down the Rhine river in Germany to Cologne.

The most of the time we spent in Switzerland and of course did some Alps climbing.

"Europeans have an exaggerated opinion of our wealth. They play for the American trade, to which they give a preference over all the rest. I took occasion to scan the glass outlook and met some Bohemian glass manufacturers. Bohemia is the original glass country of Europe. They make the same kind of glass in Bohemia that they do in Charleroi. One of the leading manufacturers which I met was more than anxious to know how they make prism glass at the Macbeth-Evans plant in Charleroi. I found that the average wage was about seven francs or $1.40 a day. That shows what a lowered tariff would do to our country. They want Wilson elected so they can get their manufactured products into this country, thinking that Wilson, a Democrat will follow the Democratic idea and seek a lower tariff."

THE CO-OPERATIVE SPIRIT.

With the sudden realization of the public that the cost of living is too high, and that the tendency of people is to spend more than they make, comes a searching inquiry into ways and means to off-set the efforts of the old-time prodigality, which is now gone forever. People are finding out that they must adopt the methods of the plain people of the European countries in order to make ends meet. Economy, frugality and thrift must hereafter be a leading rule of action with every individual as well as a spirit to unite and help one another.

This inquiry and investigation has brought to light the spirit of co-operation which has already been well developed in the older countries. After these investigations have been made economic workers are amazed to learn that in many of the European countries the plain people—peasants, we are wont to call them—are pooling their resources and doing things for themselves what in this country is believed can only be accomplished by highly organized capital and expert financiering.

It has been learned that the peasants of Germany have a system of co-operative banking that is as effective and far-reaching in proportion as any of the great financial syndicates that center in New York city. It was designed and perfected by the ordinary small farmers who when they found that no banker would loan them small sums when needed proceeded to do their own banking. So wonderful and far-reaching has their system become that President Taft, through the Diplomatic Service, has caused a study of the system to be made and an effort will be made to introduce it in the United States. Litrature on the subject is being circulated by the State Department.

As a matter of fact the plain people can do anything that any other kind of people can do. They can do co-operative banking just as well as they can do co-operative buying and selling. A body of working people, no single one of whom could get a loan of twenty-five dollars for thirty days from a bank can pool their resources, secure a loan in a lump sum divide this into small sums for short time loans, and the compounding process will pay interest on the principal and expenses of handling. This is what the German peasants started out to do, and they have been so successful that now they have central banks to supply the little ones and a system that is one of the most imporant financial centers of the German Empire.

WHERE REPUBLICANS STAND

In a brief outline of the national policy of the situation in national politics, Chairman Charles D. Hilles of the national Republican committee struck the keynote when he said:

"Shall we uphold the constitution and the protective policy? These are the two important issues of this campaign, the two which are gradually forcing themselves on the attention of the American people. Theodore Roosevelt stands for what amounts to an overthrow of the constitution, and Woodrow Wilson would destroy the protective tariff States has so greatly prospered.

President Taft is both a protectionist and a revisionist. He was the first leading Republican to declare for a thorough revision of the tariff schedule. This he did at Bath, Me., two years before he was nominated for the presidency. President Roosevelt who read Mr. Taft's speech before it was delivered warned him that he was treading on delicate ground and that he would make a host of enemies, but with that fearlessness which has always characterized him where matters of principle have been concerned Mr. Taft delivered an address in which he expressed his exact sentiments and braved the animosity of the 'standpat' elements of his party."

This is where Republicans stand. If they profess to be Republicans, then they must stand by their party. If they align themselves with another party, then they must be opposed to the policy under which our great industrial advancement that has been the marvel of the world has been fostered and developed.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Justice Miles Forman begins a new serial story in the Octobed Woman's Home Companion entitled "Through the Open Door." It is a "Votes for Women" story and will probably create considerable discussion among those interested in this subject. In the first chapter a young Socialist, talking to an eighteen year old girl on the subject of freedom, says:

"I mean just what I say. People ought to want freedom. They ought to want it so hard that they'd be in physical agony for the lack of it. They ought to stand up together in a gigantic yearning army and take it! Instead of which they run about in little circles and yammer about wages and agreements, and interest and votes, and the fair division of property. Property—that everlasting fetish of property! The rich man has it in square miles, and yet he hasn't enough; the poor man howls that he isn't given his fair share. If they dream at night, they dream of money or of some kind of beastly happiness that money can buy for them. They never even think of the word freedom, or, if they do, they mean freedom to gobble more wealth, more property. Freedom's just a doorway to them—a means, not the summit and end of all things.

"Very few people have ever even dreamed of what freedom is. You see, things have got into a most terrible mess. This idea of property has blinded and crazed everyone. And such as it is, there's no doubt it's badly distributed, and that it's going from bad to worse. The rich have got too much of it, together with the power it gives, and the poor too little. That was well enough—up to a certain breading-point—under the old feudal system. Social classes were hard and fast things. There weren't any newspapers, nor schools, nor votes, nor walking delegates. The poor expected to be poor, and that was an end of it. And now that there is education of a kind, now that there's a popular press, now that labor has begun to think—well! there's another breaking-point ahead I fancy. Another social war. Another French Revolution.

"After that freedom, perhaps. A great leveling, when property is no longer gathered into big terrifying heaps here and there, but is spread about under foot, perhaps it will lose its fascination for the men who are living then. Then there'll grow up a race that's truly free. Free to develop, each one of them, as his own nature indicates and permits. That'll be a race of giants."

WOMEN, AVOID OPERATIONS

Many Unsuccessful — And Worse Suffering Often Follows. Mrs. Rock's Case A Warning.

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will show how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when often it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.

Here is her own statement.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement. I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for several months without much relief and at last sent me to eration. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. ORVILLE ROCK, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and has restored the health of thousands of suffering women. Why don't you try it?

HILL CURB MARKET PROVES BIG SUCCESS

The hill curb market which was instituted a week ago at Crest avenue between Sixth and Seventh street attracted about a half dozen farmers with produce this morning and a large crowd of buyers. Buying was brisk. Many housekeepers stocked up for the rest of the week. The hill market is an experiment that if proven successful will be tried in other parts of town.

BIG GROWTH NOTED IN AUTO INSURANCE

Automobile insurance, protecting the owners of cars against accident, robbery and other hazards is now a highly specialized business. More than 20,000 claims are passed on daily by the officers of the 74 accident insurance companies, making up what is known as the Detroit Conference. Records on which rates are based rival in degree of completeness those accumulated in many years of life insurance history.

One of the most interesting tables furnished the conference at its annual meeting in Detroit a few days ago showed the percentage and variety of acicdent arranged according to the various makes of motor cars.

Strenuous efforts were made by several manufacturers to secure this table. It was readily appreciated that the manufacturer whose cars made the best showing in the table would be fully qualified to claim his product the safest on the market. The insurance men refused to allow such use of their private information but the word was quietly passed around that the identity of the true leader in the table would be disclosed in an informal way before the conference was over.
